STATE AND COUNTY ELECTIONS ONLY LITTLE LESS THAN TWO WEEKS

Political Turmoil Drawing To End—Battle of Ballots For August 4.

Two-day, August 4th, a little less than two weeks off from next week, is the fast approaching day and date for the first white Democratic primary in Mississippi, when by battle of ballots officers will be nominated for every State, county, district and precinct office.

Hancock county is no exception over eighty-one counties in Mississippi. There are candidates for every office. This time there has been no nominations by the Democratic Executive Committee. Every office is to be contested for.

For sheriff there are six contestants, for clerk of courts two, for assessor, eight, for county attorney two and for representative two and along down the line from supervisor to constable.

While the campaign has been active, it has been a most harmonious one. It has been mud-slinging on every corner. The Echo has not heard of it. Candidates have pursued the even tenor of their way, and as has been said, entertainment features incidental to the campaign will be missed by the many who have attended the fish fries, picnics and other rallies.

When the county election will have become history it is certain, from the present perspective, there will be nothing but the most pleasant recollections. Judging from the splendid material offered, however the election may go, a worthy and competent set of officials will be sworn in January 1st.

PRESIDENT OF BAY KING'S DAUGHTERS HOSPITAL THANKED

Mrs. E. J. Leonhard was in receipt of a letter a few days ago from Rev. L. M. A. Haughwout, of Staten Island, New York telling of the safe arrival of his daughter, Virginia Bruce, who recently left here by way of New Orleans via steamer route to New York, after being at the local King's Daughters Hospital for treatment following an accident when the young lady broke a leg below the knee as a result of a fall from her motor cycle when she was returning home from San Antonio to New York, the fall occurring fifteen miles west of Bay St. Louis.

The letter said another x-ray was taken of the broken member as a kind of check up on the local work, revealing the leg had been properly set and endorsing the good work of the local attending physician, Dr. D. H. Ward and of the excellent care at the hospital, Mrs. Craft professional nurse in charge.

The letter from the grateful father thanked the people of Bay St. Louis who had been attentive to his daughter while she was at the hospital and in a totally strange city.

Marriage of Mr. Otto Fayard of Bay City To Miss Graves of Biloxi

Mr. Otto Fayard of Bay St. Louis was married quietly at Gulfport Tuesday morning to Miss Sarah Graves, daughter of Mrs. S. H. Graves, of Biloxi, who gave out the formal announcement that day. Rev. A. M. Broadfoot performed the ceremony at the Methodist parsonage of that city, in the presence of attendants and a number of close friends and relatives.

The bride is well-known resident of the Peninsular City and prominently connected while the groom is the resident representative of the American Telegraph Company and a member of one of the oldest and best known families of this section of the seacoast.

After a short motor trip they will make their home in Bay St. Louis occupying their own home corner Touline and Main streets and where they will at a later date be "at home" to their friends.

B. W. GRIFFITH IS CRITICALLY ILL

(Vicksburg Evening Post, July 21, 1931.)

B. W. Griffith, one of Vicksburg's most beloved and highly esteemed citizens, remains critically ill at the Vicksburg Hospital today. His condition is considered grave and is the cause of much anxiety among his many friends and loved ones.

SUMMER FETE FOR CHURCH

Meeting of Committee: Wednesday Reports Progress—Final Meet Monday Evening.

One of the biggest events of the mid-summer season in Bay St. Louis will be the outdoor benefit entertainment to take place on Saturday and Sunday, August 1 and 2, on lawn of St. Stanislaus College, according to all indications.

Various working committees report favorably in the premises and that the public is co-operating to a most encouraging extent. This was the gist of the reports received at a meeting held Wednesday of last week at St. Joseph's Academy Gym, and further progress anticipated, according to the report of chairman of various committees.

Another meeting to be held. Another meeting to further complete arrangements will be held on the evening of Monday, July 27, 8 o'clock at the Catholic Rectory. The Echo has been requested to urge a general and full attendance of this meeting as it will be the final meet before the two-day benefit entertainment. Every parishioner and friends of the church and the cause in general are invited to be present. Charles A. Gordon is general chairman of the forthcoming benefit.

SUNDAY PROMISES BIG DAY

State and County Candidates to Rally July 26 For Motor Boat Races

Predicting the assertion on past similar events, the outdoor motor boat races scheduled to take place in Bay St. Louis on Sunday, July 26, will be a more outstanding success than all like events that have preceded it. For on this occasion it will be known as Candidates' Day and the races and all programs will be dedicated to the candidates—both State and county.

Suppressed to further action by not only his past successes but from profers and indications, Manager Charles A. Breath is going to make this day of July twenty-sixth the real one big letter day of the year in Bay St. Louis.

Candidates from over the State and adjoining counties have been invited to Bay St. Louis. A platform for candidates will be built on the grounds of Hotel Weston for the big rally, and it will be from this rostrum that those who may desire to will speak and from which presentation of trophies will also be made.

Trophies will be given with the contestants of local business houses and local candidates and there will be no stinting as to size, quality and beauty of the prizes.

Of course, the big parade, preceding the races, will prove an outstanding feature. Members from practically every organization in the city and county will be included in the parade. Automobiles, floats, it is said, will prove an added attraction to the races.

"We should have people here by the thousands for the one day," said Mr. Breath, the successful manager of these races, "and it is reasonable to expect," he continued, "that the biggest of all crowds any season will be here for the 26th."

Pass Christian To Have Political Rally On Thursday Next Week

Arrangements are being made for a big political rally and picnic on the Pass Christian school grounds Thursday of next week. Invitations have been sent to candidates for state and district offices as well as for county and beat offices. A large number of visitors from adjoining points are expected. The committee of women in charge of the event has endeavored to reach all candidates. The opening address will start at 2:30 p. m., and the speaking will continue until all have been given the opportunity to address the voters.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY HEARS TALK "CHINA AND CUSTOMS"

Special Cake Sale For August 4 to Raise Money Pledge For S. S. Bldg.

The Woman's Missionary Society had thirty-five members and visitors in attendance on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Chas. Thiel on South Beach Boulevard. Mrs. S. D. Siler, president conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Schilling of Waveland gave a most worth-while talk on China. She spent some years there and her firsthand descriptions of the homes, people and customs were of special interest.

Mrs. C. C. Clark gave an inspiring interpretation of the Bible lesson. Since the Missionary Society has pledged $100 toward the new Sunday School, it was decided to have a sale on August 4, of cakes, pies, sandwiches, coffee and cold drinks—as a means of raising part of this pledge. At the close of the program the guests were invited to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served.

FORMER BAY ST. LOUIS RESIDENT VISITS HERE AGAIN

Prominent visitor to the Coast and Bay St. Louis during the week was Mr. Al Wilke, publisher of the Coolidge, (Arizona) News and a chain of other newspapers.

Mr. Wilke was a former resident of Bay St. Louis, living here as a boy with his parents in Union street, and his last visit here dates back nine years. Returning to this section he found many marked improvements.

He is governor of the Lions' Club and was on his way home from the Lions' annual convention which was held this year at Toronto, Canada and regardless of past adverse business conditions proved more than ordinarily successful.

Leaving Bay St. Louis Monday night, Mr. Wilke left for New Orleans where he will visit his parents before returning to Arizona to assume the business responsibilities again looking after his chain of newspapers.

COAST INSURANCE ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW SET OFFICIALS

At the regular monthly meeting of the Coast Insurance Association, held at Great Southern Hotel, Adlai E. Lang, of Pass Christian, was honored with the office of president for the ensuing year, while Gilbert Kennedy of Gulfport was elected vice president.

Fred Fresno, of the Biloxi Agency, succeeded A. E. Lang as secretary.

It was planned to have another year of mutual co-operation and to further advance the interests of both the agencies and policy holders of the Mississippi Gulf Coast by continuing the constructive policies of the past.

Miss May H. Edwards Recent Speaker Before Gulfport Rotary Club

Miss May H. Edwards, of Bay St. Louis and Gulfport, and operator of a lending library in the latter-named city, was the speaker before the Gulfport Rotary Club recently, at its regular luncheon weekly period in the Great Southern Hotel.

Miss Edwards gave a short history of libraries, saying that the first one known was conducted in Babylon approximately 3000 years B. C. Another large one was conducted at Alexandria in Egypt, but neither was a public institution, she stated. The largest library in the world is in Paris, France, and contains 27 million volumes. It does not compare favorably with public libraries in the United States, however, so far as utility is concerned, she stated.

A lending library, she stated, did not take the place of a library, it had a different function. A lending library contained books and reference facilities which a public library did not contain. It might be designated as a book service station and not a competitor of the public library, she stated.

The operation of a lending library in Gulfport depended on the wish of people to have such an institution, she stated.

The hope is expressed that Miss Edwards may be prevailed upon to speak before the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, since it is said her address was both engaging and illuminating.

RETREAT FOR WOMEN AT SAINT JOSEPH'S

Plans are under way to hold a retreat for women at St. Joseph's Academy Bay St. Louis, some time before the opening of school. Approval of this proposed retreat was expressed by Rt. Rev. R. O. Gervy, bishop of the diocese of Natchez, in a letter read at the meeting.

This will bring a number of Catholic women from all parts of the State, and will follow the recent retreat given in Bay St. Louis for men, under auspices of Knights of Columbus.

DR. SHIPP IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Tells of Bi-ennial Report Made to State of Mississippi on County Work.

Following the plan of having a local speaker practically every other week, or more often when possible, the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club on Wednesday had as its program speaker Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer for Hancock.

Dr. Shipp gave the gist of his bi-ennial report of county health work to the State department, where the report of every two-year period is filed in state archives and remains there for posterity. In keeping with this idea, the report was prefaced with the geography and population of Hancock county, that its population was eleven thousand and some odd hundreds, that it is twenty-five miles wide and thirty miles deep and how its borders touch the waters; that its pine timber was cut and flourished only a generation back.

Hancock county is one of the thirty-one in Mississippi that has full time health services and that makes this report.

A compilation of the work accomplished well shows how well this money is spent to the advantage of every man, woman and child of Hancock; and figures show the diligence and application of Dr. Shipp, working as he does in every nook of Hancock county.

The report as given out by Dr. Shipp was actual figures and facts well substantiated and proved one of the best programs the club has had for some time.

Next week, Rev. Father R. J. Kirshenheuter, C. M., of St. Thomas Seminary, Denver, Colorado, and recently returned from Europe, will be the chief speaker of Rotary.

Senator Pat Harrison has accepted an invitation to speak before the Bay Rotary in the immediate future.

BAY K. OF C. INSTALL OFFICERS

Ceremony Held At K. C. Home, Main Street—Unusually Large Attendance Marks Occasion

Installation of recently-elected officers of Bay K. of C. Council No. 1522, K. of C., took place Sunday evening at K. C. Home in Main street, with District Deputy Eugene Peresch of Biloxi, installing officer.

The occasion was marked by an unusually large attendance, among those present were State Deputy Joseph W. Ross, State Secretary A. G. Favre and State Treasurer, S. O. Korndorfer, of Natchez. Officers installed, and who will serve the council for the ensuing year are as follows:

Chas. A. Gordon, Grand Knight; John J. B. Borden, Deputy Grand Knight; O. M. Villers, Chancellor; P. H. Kammer, Warden; Rev. Leo F. Fahey, Lecturer; Alden L. Mauffray, Financial Secretary; John Julian Ladner, Recording Secretary; Trustee, Arthur A. Scaffie; Trustee, August Schirz; Inner Guard, Alphonse Fayard; Outer Guard, Gaston Ladner; Rev. Fr. A. J. Gmelch, Chaplain.

Drum and Bugle Corps of Biloxi, consisting of twenty members, in full uniform, added to the occasion, and contributed a number of march compositions. The selections were well received.

Visiting Knights from New Orleans, Gulfport, Biloxi, Pascagoula and intermediate points augmented the local attendance. Following the ceremony the party repaired to the banquet hall where edibles and seasonable drinkables were served.

Among the speakers for this occasion were State Deputy Joseph W. Ross, District Deputy Eugene Peresch, Grand Knight Chas. A. Gordon, Rev. A. J. Gmelch, and Father Leo F. Fahey of Bay St. Louis.

Operated On For Appendicitis at New Orleans Tuesday A. M.

Mrs. Jules L. Burg, residing corner Hancock and Citizen streets was rushed to New Orleans Tuesday morning by train for an emergency operation. The patient was the victim of appendicitis and the ordeal of the surgeon's knife was successfully gone through.

Mrs. Burg is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Burg, well-known residents in Bookter avenue, and the mother of four small children. Her improved condition is learned with much interest by many friends both here and in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS CHILD MEETS WITH UNUSUAL ACCIDENT ON TRAIL

Sudden Stop of Car Throws Victim Against Windshield—Brought to Bay Hospital.

Edna Keller, 10, of New Orleans, suffered serious cuts about the face and neck Wednesday of last week, when she was thrown through the windshield of the auto in which she was travelling from New Orleans to Bay St. Louis to spend a vacation at Camp Onward. Her grandmother, Mrs. Frank Berg, was driving. It is understood that the child was standing up arranging a suitcase on which rain was dripping. A traffic jam on the muddy highway caused Mrs. Berg to stop her car suddenly, throwing the child into the windshield. She was rushed to the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital for treatment. She had led profusely but under prompt local treatment soon rallied and was soon out of danger and on the road to recovery.

MIKE CONNER WILL SPEAK IN BAY ST. LOUIS AUGUST 1

Well-Known Gubernatorial Candidate Will Be Heard In Bay City.

Mike Conner, candidate for governor of Mississippi, and who has many friends and admirers in this section, will address the voters of Hancock county on the morning of Saturday, August 1, at 10 o'clock.

He will address the voters and the public in general from a specially built rostrum on the front lawn of St. Stanislaus College, the scene of a two-day benefit outdoor entertainment for the church of Our Lady of the Gulf.

The public is invited. There will be ample accommodations and a loud speaker arrangement will be installed in order that every one in the gathering expected will be able to hear every word audibly and from the most remote corners.

Clever Bay St. Louis Woman Wins Floor Lamp For Skill in Contest

Mrs. Orrie M. Pollard was the successful winner of the third prize in an essay contest sponsored by the Ben Bradford Furniture Company at 701 Baronne street, New Orleans a few days ago, and since the lamp is unusually handsome and well worthy of possession, Mrs. Pollard is justly and doubly proud of her success.

The Big Ben clock of the store told the hour of 7:01 with the word "Now" inscribed on the dial. The idea was to write and interpret what the clock "said."

Mrs. Pollard wrote that the time 7:01 signified the street number, the Big Ben clock represented the first name of the proprietor and that "Now" meant it was time now to buy. The lamp is most unusual in attractiveness and originality.

Gay Party of Young Women Delegates To Chicago; Left Sunday

Quite a number of friends of young women, delegates from Bay St. Louis to the annual convention and pageant of the National Young Women's Benevolent Association, held at Chicago this week assembled at the L. & N. railroad depot last Sunday morning to bid them God-speed and a most enjoyable and profitable trip.

The party leaving, in charge of the Misses Engman, executives and chaperones for the trip, is composed of the following-named: Misses Miriam and Levia Engman, Miss Irma Koch, Miss Lucille St. Amant, Mrs. Charles Carter, Mrs. Leo R. Murtagh, Miss Dora Nicaise, Miss Yvonne Tremolet, Mrs. Louise Hobbs, Miss Catherine Burg, Miss Amelia Scaffie, Mrs. George A. Stevens.

It was noted the many friends not only showered their departing friends with showers of good wishes, but many daintily arranged and attractive looking packages were given.

The party reached Chicago Monday at 4 o'clock, and each and every member is loud in its praise for the excellent manner in which the L. & N. handled the special coach and the excellent service which prevailed. Before returning home the delegates will visit Niagara Falls and intermediate points.

Just Another Auto Accident on O. S. T.—Victim to Hospital

Virginia Smith, colored girl of New Orleans, received treatment at the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital Saturday afternoon, for injuries sustained when the auto in which she was travelling with the family for which she worked overturned about 5 miles from Waveland on the Old Spanish Trail. Mrs. F. S. Couvillon was driving the car in which the girl was riding.

SINGLE SHOT BALLOTS NOT TO BE USED IN COMING PRIMARY AUG. 4

Primary Voting Rule Announced—Where Two Names Are To Be Voted Two Must Be So Marked—Failure Will Kill That Part of Ticket.

SHELL OIL CO. HAS NEW DEPOT

Gas and Oil Products Company Opens Wholesale Headquarters in Bay City

Recently the Shell Oil Company, well-known world-wide corporation, opened its base and supply depot for Hancock county in Bay St. Louis, building and locating its tanks on L. & N. property near the depot, and in future all sales to local retailers will be supplied from the Bay St. Louis depot, and Hancock county will in future collect the gas tax due to it from all oil supply depots.

Formerly Bay St. Louis and other county stations were supplied from the depot located at Gulfport. Now Bay St. Louis and Hancock county have their own supply station. E. J. Arceneaux, proprietor of the well-known retail filling station corner Court street and South Beach Boulevard, is also the resident selling agent for Hancock county, and Charles Bandret has been placed in charge of the delivery system. Bandret is not only most courteous and wide-awake but efficient and most painstaking and it is another case of the right man being in the right place.

Mr. Arceneaux says the sales of Shell gas has gradually increased until today there is wide city and county sale for the product. Shell gas, he says, has quality to back its ever-increasing sales.

Work of Paving Kellar Street, Ward 3, Begun Last Monday Morning

Actual work of beginning paving operations for Kellar avenue begun Monday morning, when a force of men, after outlining the lines of operation began taking away the surplus surface, and as soon as the oyster shell base of possibly a foot deep will have been laid, work of pouring the asphalt will begin.

Kellar avenue, named for the late Mayor August Kellar, is 900 feet long, 27 feet wide. Twenty feet will be "paved" and a space for sidewalk on each side will be allowed, covering a three and one-half ft. space. Kellar avenue connects two paved streets, Hancock and Railroad avenue, and herein we find another case of much for little, which is to the credit of the administration.

Recent Marriage of Young Business Man Of Bay St. Louis

Miss Annie Adams and William Bryan Graham were married July 4 by the Catholic parsonage with Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, officiating. The bride wore a gown of orchid chiffon and orchid picture hat. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Henrietta Bourgeois, who wore pink flat crepe. Mr. Graham had as his best man his brother, Woody Graham.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Graham went to their home on Touline street which was ready for their occupancy. The bride is an employee of the telephone company in the local exchange. Mr. Graham operates a garage on Main street and is not only a steady and reliable citizen, but a live and progressive business man of this community.

Return $2500 Suit From Federal to Harrison County Court

Gulfport, Miss., July 21.—Charging that attendants at Shadowlawn, amusement resort at Pass Christian, had falsely accused him of "stealing two golf balls" following a game of miniature golf there in July, 1930, Harry L. Sauce of Jackson, Miss., today filed a $2500 damage suit against M. Waldo Mayer and wife, and Alexander Lechtag of New Orleans, doing business as Shadowlawn Amusement Company, and the Aline Realty Company alleged owners of the property where the amusement resort is situated.

The suit was filed in circuit court and in reality is a refiling of a claim that had been filed in this court some months ago and was transferred to the federal court and after being non-suited there is now back in the circuit court, it was said.

"Single-shot" voting in the August primary election will not be permitted by the Mississippi State Democratic executive committee. The committee in session went on record as opposed to "single-shooting" and voted that ballots showing a vote for only one candidate in races where more than one is to be selected would not be counted insofar as the particular contests was concerned.

"Single-shot" voting, it was explained, is where a voter selects only one candidate where two or more are to be named from among a larger group of candidates. Under this action, the voter must mark an "X" beside the number called for on the ballot. Nate Williamson of Meridian, was the only committeeman opposed to a resolution outlawing the "single shot" practice.

Unopposed candidates were given the party nomination by the committee and those with opposition approved for participation in the August 4 primary election. Walter Wood, secretary of the state, and W. E. Bond, state superintendent of education, were the only two state officials unopposed. Other nominees declared by virtue of having no opposition were the following district attorneys: First District—Marshall T. Adams of Pontotoc.

Second District—William M. Colmer, Pascagoula.

Fourth District—Percy Lee of Forest.

Fifteenth District—Toxey Hall, Columbia.

Seventeenth District—Milton E. Thompson, Sewall.

Chairman E. G. Williams of McComb, presided over the session and he was authorized by the committee to name a committee of five members to aid in the canvassing of the returns from the August 4 election. Secretary Thompson nominated Neil Currie of Hattiesburg, for membership on the committee, which was approved by unanimous vote.

The Sea Coast Echo has been asked if one failed to vote for two when the ballot said "Vote for two" would it invalidate the entire ticket. The ruling is no. But the candidate receiving only that one "X" vote mark where two should be voted would lose that particular ticket. However, the balance of the ticket would not be void.

Card Party This Friday Night For Ladies Legion Auxiliary

American Legion Auxiliary of this city and county announce a benefit card party will be held this Friday night at Hotel Weston in order to raise funds to send members of Boy Scouts to Summer Camp Salmen, at Siggell Lake, during the early part of August. With the exception of a very few, the entire membership of the group will be in attendance at the camp. The public is invited to attend the benefit party tonight in order to raise the necessary funds.

Notice To Members Clement R. Bontemps; Meet For Parade

Members of Clement R. Bontemps Legion Post are requested to report in front of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Clubhouse Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock for the parade to be held that day, marking the "outboard motor races. All members will take notice and be on time, it is officially requested.

Church Benefit Card Party This Friday Afternoon at Yacht Club

There will be a card party this Friday afternoon, July 24, at Bay-Waveland Yacht clubhouse, at 2 p. m., to which the public is cordially invited to participate. This benefit is for the expense fund of the forthcoming Catholic church fair, which is slated for August 1-2.

Tally cards are only fifty cents. Mrs. Edw. F. Fahey, is chairlady of this benefit entertainment, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Curry. A supreme effort is made to make this benefit a success to the maximum extent. The ladies no doubt will.

Young Lady Catches 15-Lb. Gar In Crab Net While Fishing

Miss Virginia Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hardin, of New Orleans, sunbathing here, was quite thrilled Friday when she pulled up a crab net and found to her surprise that she had captured in its meshes a 15-lb. gar, which she landed and killed. This was caught from the pier of Mrs. Thos. Benham, on beach, near St. Charles street.

"WHITE LIGHTNING."

Some years ago, before enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment, liquor drinkers who wished to rid themselves of the habit would take the Keeney cure. Today the fellows who have an insatiable thirst don't have to take the "cure." They drink "white lightning" and it soon kills them—unless they happen to swig that distilled in old Hancock, which we are told is just as good as any liquor ever made in Kentucky or Tennessee.

SOME RECORD, THEODORE!

The Jackson Clarion-Ledger, in its issue of last Tuesday, says that 117 penitentiary convicts to whom Governor Bilbo has issued suspensions since he took office in 1928, have failed to return to the penitentiary upon the expiration of their suspensions. The prisoners automatically become "escapes" when they fail to report at the "pen" on the expiration. That is some record for Theodore!

WON'T BE LONG NOW.

"It won't be long now" before the more than 5000 candidates for State, district and county offices will know their respective fates. Never in the history of Mississippi has such a host of political aspirants been known, and doubtless the number seeking public office is due to "the depression." In "hard times" the desire to get one's head into the public trough seems overpowering and non-resistible.

TIME TO CHANGE.

Hon. Edgar S. Wilson, long recognized as the best informed man as to Mississippi's financial affairs, says "the biennial interest on the State's bonded indebtedness is $4,880,000" and that "is $960,203.31 more than the entire cost of running the State government in 1900-01, which was $3,916,796.69." Who says that it is not time to elect men that will practice economy in administering the State government?

WOULD BE A BIG HELP NOW.

THAT $5,000,000 in Federal aid funds lying idle in the national treasury to the credit of Mississippi would be a big help now in building our highways. But we won't get it. And why? Just charge it up to our warring factionalists and be content to patiently wait until the next legislature meets.

TIRED OF WAITING.

A bale of cotton ginned by a north Mississippi farmer in 1890 was sold the other day for $44.10. He had evidently gotten tired of waiting for the staple to bring a higher price than it did 41 years ago.

Last year's sugar cane crop in Louisiana last year amounted to 3,100,000 tons and was valued at $11,051,000.

What does the Declaration of Independence mean to the alien who violates the law of the land?—Yazoo Sentinel.—Nothing, absolutely nothing.

Mr. Hoover as the advance agent for prosperity is also running a good deal ahead of his show.—Mobile Register. Hasn't he been saying for so many months that "prosperity is just around the corner." Unless the corner is a long, long way off, it is moving at a snail's pace.

Pensacola, Florida, held an election last Monday and by a vote of more than 7 to 1 decided to abandon the city's commission form of government. It will go back to the old aldermanic form of administering the city's government, but a city manager will be employed and he is to be accountable to the aldermanic board.

Just how the expense of making a State-wide campaign which amounts to a great deal more than the four-year salary received by the successful aspirants is to be met is a matter for the honest and patriotic electorate to think about. Thousands of dollars are not spent unless the spenders have thought up some scheme by which to recoup such expenditure.

Posters and placards carrying the pictures of candidates are posted and tacked on trees, billboards and in every other place where they may be seen by the voters. We seriously doubt if such publicity is worth very much. Advertising space in the newspapers—and paid for at regular rates—would be far more effective, according to our way of thinking.

Up in Issaquena county political differences have reached white heat, and unless the warring factions declare a truce there is a probability that some blood will be shed. The trouble grew out of the way the board of election commissioners were purging the poll books, striking off and leaving on the names of voters just as suited the particular fancy of a majority of the board. Issaquena has the smallest voting strength in a Democratic primary of any county in the State and for several years there has been rivalry between two factions as to which shall control.

LET INCOME BALANCE OUTGO.

THERE are few States, counties and municipalities in the United States clear of debt, for the reason that their expenditures exceed their income, and year after year deficits are piled on deficits, all of which has meant an increase in taxation.

Such procedure cannot go on much longer, if indeed the time has not already come to end the policy of spending more money than comes into the public treasuries each year, otherwise insolvency must inevitably be declared.

The cost of State and local government has increased many fold in recent years, and there is no one who has the hardihood to assert that either is more efficiently and honestly administered than they were a generation ago. Those in power, both State and local, have indulged in an orgy of spending the public funds in wasteful and extravagant fashion, and seemingly never thinking that every debt contracted must and shall be paid. Where budgets have been made the same were knowingly disregarded and mountains of debt incurred. Little thought has been given to the ability of the already over-burdened taxpayers to meet the demands put upon their purses.

It is an undeniable fact that a large and decided curtailment in the expenditures of public funds could be effected in every unit of State and local government if more care and thought was given to the matter of electing officials pledged to a policy of economy in the administration of government.

Every dollar paid out the public treasury should be in the settlement of a dollar honestly earned, be it for services or materials, and no debt incurred where it is not actually necessary. Until such a policy is adopted the public funds will continue to be wasted and debts and deficits will continue to pile up.

OBJECT OF SPECIAL ATTACK.

GOVERNOR BILBO is an object of special attack at the hands of former Attorney General Rush H. Knox, who is traveling over the State seeking re-election to the office he resigned to escape impeachment. He says that the revelation by a legislative sub-committee of secret conferences in a small Tennessee town between Governor Bilbo and Rogers Caldwell over a huge contemplated bond issue is "a shocking picture to paint before Mississippians of clandestine corruption. The people of Mississippi have been fooled, tricked, deceived, cheated, befuddled and betrayed long enough, and Bilbo has been trying to hide his acts under the cloak of darkness and far-away towns. The truth, tramped beneath the heels of certain politicians who would spare nothing to get what they are after, is at last beginning to rise." There is no doubt that all the former chief law officer of the State charges is true, but it would sound better if it came from another source.

HOLDING UP THE TAXPAYER.

A SYNDICATE of bond buyers have agreed to purchase the $5,000,000 bonds issued to pay off depositors in State banks that failed prior to March, 1930. The bonds bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent—the highest rate ever paid in the history of the State. Poor old Mississippi, upon the shoulders of her taxpayers is laid an additional burden, and all due to the unwillingness of factional leaders to work together in the interest of the whole people.

RUBBING IT IN.

Governor Bilbo made a speech at Magnolia about ten days ago, and the fellow who introduced him to the audience wound up his spiel by saying: "Now, ladies and gentlemen, I take great pleasure in presenting to you the next United States senator from Mississippi." Ye Gods and little fishes! No one knows better than Theodore himself that his political star has set for all time and he must have felt that his introducer was rubbing it in to even mention his name in connection with the senatorship. We have heard of men being dead that they did not know it, but Theodore is not in that class.

HOLDS RECORD FOR PREACHING.

Rev. E. A. Sandifer, pastor of the Cotton Valley, La., Baptist church, holds the world's record for preaching long sermons. He began his discourse at 11 a. m. Sunday and brought it to a close at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday—58 1-2 hours. The dispatches state that he "paused only occasionally to partake of raw eggs, chocolate and coffee and once to change his shirt." We are wondering if such an exhibition by the seeker after notoriety was "pleasing in the sight of the Lord."

SHOULD HELP STOP SUCH CRIMES.

Guy Fairley, who fired the fatal shot which killed H. L. Everett, prohibition agent near Collins, has been convicted and sentenced to be executed on the 12th of August. William Fairley, son-in-law of the condemned man, who had already pleaded guilty as an accessory to the killing and given a life sentence was the principal witness for the prosecution. The killing took place less than six weeks ago and the speedy trial and conviction of the two men should have a good effect, and there may be a let up in such crimes.

IN THE RICHEST COUNTRY IN THE WORLD.

A crowd of three hundred hungry men and women marched on grocery stores at Henryetta, Arkansas, last Saturday and demanded that they be given food supplies. Like conditions are threatened elsewhere in these United States unless there comes better times in the near future. And still it is the proud boast of all Americans that our nation is the richest in all the world.

Attendance at motion picture theatres grows as the years go by. Back in 1922 the weekly attendance at shows averaged 40,000,000. This year it is estimated that 115,000,000 people will pay admission each week.

LOCAL SIDELIGHTS.

WEALTH OF VISITING AUTOS ON MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST.

AT NO TIME in the history of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, since the advent of the automobile are there so many cars here as present. The observer, who will watch the numbers going by and noting the different makes, models and license, the aggregate number, it will readily be seen, is more than, in ordinary thinking and speaking terms.

It is quite a game to watch the cars go by from a given point and count the licenses from different States. A check up on this kind the other day within a few minutes resulted in noting licenses from California, Oregon, New York, Texas, Illinois and Tennessee, to say nothing of Alabama and Louisiana, which are commonly noted.

The Coast has frequently been termed the Motorist's paradise and whoever coined the term possibly little realized how well he said it. The motorist on the Mississippi Gulf Coast will never tire. Roadways are perfect and the scenery seemingly is ever changing. The water is ever alluring and proves compelling.

The thousands of visitors and summer residents who are on the Coast are here with their cars and well it is so, for, without fear of successful contradiction, it can well be said we have the finest roads and views from every prospect and the value and pleasure of an auto on the Coast is of manifold value and multiple pleasure. The reader from away perusing these lines, will do well when visiting the Coast to bring along the car, whether it be a gas buggy or something akin we think of in the "million-dollar" class.

MANY ATTRACTED TO GULF COAST BY GOLF.

ANY TIME, any day a visit to the various golf links on the Mississippi Gulf Coast reveals many golfers driving the little white pill from hole to hole. The golfers are there in full numbers and the Coast links are said to be far superior to others of local accessibility.

No real vacationists today leaves home without his golf paraphernalia; no business man going a way leaves without similar outfit. Golf promotes not only health and pleasure but has been the means of promoting good fellowship in commercial and professional circles and responsible for putting over many a big business deal.

Pine Hills, on Bay St. Louis, still attracts many players. Many prefer it to other links; they say it is the finest there is. The writer must confess, while he has played on practically every link hereabouts between New Orleans and Mobile, Pine Hills never loses its appeal.

When you come to Bay St. Louis, Mr. Prospective Visitor, be sure to bring the clubs and include golf in your vacation pastimes. Fishing, boating, motoring all are fine. We recommend these. But, boy, don't forget golf.

A FEW LINES FOR THE FISHERMAN WHO PLANS TO COME TO THE COAST.

THE ANGLER never comes to this section in vain. There is fish to be caught either in the fresh water tributaries to the Bay and Sound waters, on the Gulf the salt waters that wash the shores of the county from the mouth of Pearl to Jordan rivers. One is always repaid for the trip.

Just how salt water fish are biting pretty well and anglers who go out either from Point Cedar or other places from the shore are repaid for the trip. Owing to excessive rains, fresh water streams have been flooded and fish that were hungry before the flood are now biting.

Trout and red fish bite fairly well. Soon, in August time, the "speckled beauties" and Spanish Mackerel will be in abundance. Fishermen who come to Bay St. Louis find no scarcity of live bait, the necessary essential to a successful piscatorial expedition.

BAY-WAVELAND ENJOYING "FLOURISHING SUMMER."

A CORRESPONDENT living away writes the Echo to ascertain what kind of a summer we are having this year; are there many visitors in the Bay-Waveland sector. The Echo has hundreds of readers scattered over the country who know this section, are acquainted and possibly have other interests here. That is why they take the paper. The reply to the correspondent is, in particular, that of general interest. There are many people in both Bay St. Louis and Waveland; the influx of summer visitors is as great if not greater than other seasons. The depression has had no ill effect, besides Bay-Waveland is ever popular.

RUBBING ALADDIN'S LAMP IN THIS TIME OF THE RADIO.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

ONCE UPON A TIME, quite a long, long time ago, there was a youth named Aladdin so the pages of "Arabian Nights" inform us. This youth came into possession of a magic lamp which on rubbing, a jinni, who was the slave of the lamp suddenly appeared. All Aladdin had to do was to state his wish or whim, and lo and behold it was promptly realized.

Today the world has a modern version of Aladdin's Lamp. The radio, stripped of all mystical and supernatural bowstrings, it is our Aladdin's Lamp. The little dials that regulate volume and range represent the jinni that controls the electrical waves floating through the ether.

On any "American Night" one will find families gathered before the radio. Sprawled with luxurious ease in a comfortable chair, father tunes in on delightful programs from near or distant stations, just as the whims or fancies of the family circle dictates. There is no rubbing or coaxing necessary with the latest model radios. A mere turn of the dial brings in music to our living rooms classic or popular music, drama, lectures, sport events, latest news flashes, and many other educational and entertaining features.

Considering the remarkable low cost and the wonderful performance and beauty of the latest model radios, the American public have added advantages over those possessed by Aladdin.

There is a completely new thrill in store for the person who experiments with his new radio for the first time. In a room dimly illuminated with soft glowing lights, the radio owner will be swept completely into the realms of ecstasy, as he ventures into the recesses of a starlight night outside—to bring to life sound and music from far distant broadcasting stations.

Surely Aladdin might have rubbed his lamp several times in place of the customary once required, if he had dreamed that the jinni might have delivered on the spot one of our modern radios. He might have even traded his famous lamp along with his magic ring to boot on any "Arabian Night" for an Amos 'n' Andy program.

with the New Orleans folks and they love to flock out here to enjoy the many things we have to offer as a summer resort. In a few sporadic instances there might be a house here or there possibly vacant, but this is no criterion. For every few of the vacant houses there is a reason. Go to church on Sunday morning, to any of the main masses, and see the crowds for yourself.

VALUE OF REAL ESTATE VERSUS OTHER IMPROVEMENT.

THE DEPRESSION has taught many lessons and brought to mind many observations that otherwise would never occur. Owners of real estate still have the intrinsic value of their holdings, even though the market value is stagnant just now. Others who have bought various securities have in quite many instances lost heavily, thus commented a well-known financier and business thinker while talking to the writer and a group of friends the other night after dinner at one of the leading Coast hotels.

Everyone will subscribe to this opinion. Take Bay St. Louis and vicinity, at least. Property, improved and otherwise, still holds its own. No one is giving away anything. And contrast the individual who has lost much in paper securities with the other one who has his in reality. The latter still remains, and if there has been a depreciation it is for the reason the recent boom had inflated values in instances, most preposterously. Better stick to your realty investments.

BAY ST. LOUIS BRIDGE OF INESTIMABLE VALUE.

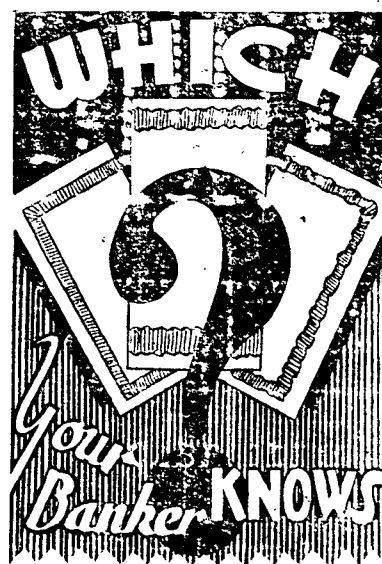

BAL ST. LOUIS bi-county bridge attracts much retail business to Bay St. Louis. It is daily noted. Shoppers from the other side seem to enjoy the ride over the two-mile span and visit from store to store and from shop to shop, in daily marketing and shopping pursuit.

New Orleans visitors to West End of Pass Christian and more particularly at Henderson Point shop here regularly each morning and a lady, emerging from a store, was heard to say that she found not only prices right but the Bay St. Louis merchants had variety and quality. "In addition," she continued, "we love the trip to and fro."

The writer has found Bay St. Louis business people greet their customers with much cordiality and seemingly nothing is of too much trouble; they continually strive to please and are working towards the end of having the customer to come again. It is surprising the amount of trade that comes from over the bridge daily, more than one would casually expect. Many come over of evenings, patronize the local theater and refreshment places.

Truly the bridge has proven a greater factor for this section of the Coast, and every day there seems to be a new phase where the construction of this "span" has proven as investment of inestimable value. This new phase, the morning shopper and evening visitor is of no small magnitude computed in dollars and cents.

MILLER'S SERVICE STATION
DEDICATE WITH FISH FRY AND PUBLIC RALLY.

The recent fish fry and candidates' rally at Miller's Service station, completed station, corner of Main street and Railroad Boulevard, attracted a large and interesting crowd and each and every one enjoyed the event.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller were personally present and supervised the affair to the extent that they saw each and every one thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

At an early hour a corps of attendants assembled the work of frying the many pounds of salt water fish began. The big pieces of fresh, crisp and deliciously-fried fish were kept hot and sandwiched in liberal portions of fresh white bread. Better sandwiches have never been served, and this was the general consensus of opinion.

Candidates from all parts congregated and many spoke in the interest of their respective candidates.

Miller's Service Station takes place of the building recently destroyed by fire. The new building is a marked improvement over the old one and is thoroughly up-to-date and fully equipped. Mr. Miller is live and progressive and allows nothing like a fire with no insurance to cover his losses to daunt him. On the contrary, his motto has been, "Business as Usual."

J. N. WISNER WAS A WORTHY PROPHET AS REGARDS ITS FUTURE

Before Seawall and Road
And Bay Auto Bridge
Were Built He Said,
"Keep Your Eye on Waveland!"

When one looks only two or three years back, the residents when the town of Waveland was practically in a state of chaos with its beach front road devastated by recurring storms, impassable, and property practically at no value; and one contrasts the present flourishing state of affairs in Waveland, with its magnificent stretch of seawall and roadway built, it brings back to mind the prophecies of J. N. Wisner, then resident of Bay St. Louis, and who owned no property in Waveland. He said, "Watch Waveland! It is the coming scene of the Coast. No one at that time could see it that way—but J. N. Wisner, far-seeing and always hitting the mark, could not see it otherwise but the way it has proven."

Here is a sample of a message, printed on a post card, ten thousand copies, that were broadcasted through the mails over the Southern country. It will be observed, the card was printed before the bridge was built.

"Waveland will unquestionably be the highest class, highest priced 'strictly residential' beach frontage on the entire Gulf Coast."

"It faces East giving morning sun and evening shade also unrestricted trade winds from the Gulf especially all summer when most desired."

"The Gentin bill now having passed both House and Senate assures the building of a wonderful Boulevard Drive also excellent Sea Wall from the 3 cents per gallon State Tax on gasoline. Also final Government approval now absolutely assures the tool free Bridge across Bay St. Louis."

"It is only 70 minutes from New Orleans with 20 Passenger trains daily also probably the very cheapest commutation rate in America."

"Last but not least if there is anything in a name Waveland is distinctly descriptive."

The Martyr

By CLINTON BLACKWELL

The Lewis Hood-O. V. Lee-Buck-Morris combination kept the Pass Christian Pirates in the race for second half Mississippi Coast League championship honors Sunday afternoon by defeating the Waveland Sentinels by 4 to 3 in the feature game of the fifth round play, as Biloxi's undefeated Bakers remained atop the pack with a 15 to 1 triumph over Bay St. Louis' Panthers and the Gulfport Tarpons were edged out by 6 and 5 by the Ocean Springs Cubs in other battles of the card.

While Hood was holding the Sentinels to four hits, Morris and Lee were combining their hits to drive in Pass Christian's total runs. Morris also added a fielding sensation catch to retire Waveland in the last of the ninth with a one-hand stab of a laced single into left field.

The schedule for next Sunday promises to furnish plenty action as the first four clubs clash in games that the results will have much to do with the final outcome of the pennant chase.

The bill is headed with Biloxi's invasion of Waveland. Ocean Springs' Cubs play home to the Pirates in the other "big-battle" while Gulfport and Bay St. Louis was the fifteenth consecutive official Coast League victory this season in as many starts. It was Granville Foster's second victory in his "comeback" campaign after more than a year lay-off on account of an ailing flipping wing.

Win in Fourth

The Pirates trimmed Waveland in the fourth by scoring a pair of runs and giving them a two-run margin that the Sentinels were unable to overcome during the remaining innings, even though they did pick up one marker in the sixth.

Morris drove in what proved to be the winning runs with a sharp double into centerfield scoring Heno and Vaughn. The former was on base by a single into right and Vaughn was safe on a fielder's choice.

Pass Christian scored first in the opening inning when Vaughn singled into left field and took second on an error at first base when Condon threw to Haas on the effort to make the runner off base. Morris' infield single advanced Vaughn and Smith filled the bases when Lee was hit by a pitched ball. Then Lee drove in Vaughn grounding out to short.

Another tally was scored in the third. Vaughn worked Condon for a base on balls and was sacrificed by Morris to second to score when Lee socked a double into deep left field.

Pack Christian lost another run during that inning when Lee was held up at third on Bertucci's bingle into center.

Waveland's first run came in the third when Fayard was walked and was sacrificed to second to score when T. J. Bourgeois singled to left. The second run came in the third off Morris who relieved Hood for a short period allowing Lewis' arm to rest after he had been hit by a pitched ball while batting in the second.

Ball Has Big Day

Slick Ball, formerly with Pass Christian, who had a big day both at bat and at field at the expense of his old mates, started the works against Morris with a triple into center when Bertucci fielded slowly. Then Lee's error at third on fielding a sacrifice allowed Ball to score.

Other than getting three hits, including a single, double and triple, in four trips, Ball took in four flies with some fast patrolling of right and left fields. He was shifted to the left pasture when Rugar was chased from the game by Empire Marbury in the fifth for protesting a third called strike.

The chasing of Rugar was not all that resulted from Marbury's officiating as Manager Pos Bertucci filed a protest in the sixth when the arbiter called Vaughn out for interfering with Catcher Glover on a pop fly near first base. The protest was with drawn, however, when Pass Christian emerged victorious.

Marbury's officiating was highly commended by the large crowd of spectators who crowded Pirate field. He had charge of the situation all the way and kept the clubs fighting hard even though it was drawn out over more than a period of two hours.

WAVELAND SENTINELS
PLAN FOR BIG GAME
AT HOME SUNDAY

Evenly Matched With Biloxi
Team Outcome Is Eagerly
Awaited—Both Sides
Confident.

The feature game of the season will be played at Waveland Park, Sunday, July 26, between the Waveland Sentinels and Biloxi Bakers. The two teams are evenly matched, both having trimmed the Bay Panthers with practically identical scores.

If the Sentinels can take the Bakers into camp they will be in line to win the second half honors and the right to meet the powerful Biloxi nine in the play-off. The Bakers will no doubt start "Stag" Foster and the Sentinels will depend on "Bob" Condon the best speed ball pitcher in the league. The Waveland nine boost of one of the strongest hitting teams in the loop.

The management expects a capacity crowd for the tilt Sunday.

HUGH WHITE REPEATS STAND ON CUT-OVER LAND ASSESSMENTS

Says If Elected Governor Will Veto Any Bill to Exempt Such Lands—Such Exemption Would Impair Schools and Other Bonds.

Hugh L. White, of Columbia, independent candidate for governor and a leader in South Mississippi's lumber industry, told a Franklin county audience Monday afternoon that he would veto any legislative act attempting to exempt cut-over timber lands in the state.

These lands, he declared in elaborating upon his previous, unqualified stand upon the highly important question in all of south Mississippi, must necessarily remain upon the tax rolls to prevent serious impairment of the county and lesser political subdivision budgets for schools, highways and other improvements and operations.

"Our cut-over lands are producing no revenue but they must, and it is right that they should continue to bear their proportions of taxes," said White vigorously.

"I have said in every speech that I have made during the campaign that I am opposed to exempting our cut-over lands from taxation, and I want to take this occasion to further emphasize my position on this question by saying that I am not only opposed to exempting our cut-over lands from taxation but I hereby make the pledge to the people of Mississippi that if I am elected governor, I will veto any bill to grant any such exemption," he declared.

"There are around 19,000,000 acres of cut-over lands in Mississippi little if any, of which is producing revenue to the owners, but all of which plays a prominent part in local taxing budgets.

"All of your local bond issues are liens on these lands and it would be impossible to take care of the obligations and pay the running expenses of any county government in South Mississippi or to maintain your schools without the taxes now being collected on these cut-over lands," White asserted.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

Pickle time is when cucumbers, pepper and tomatoes are so plentiful. Why not convert your surplus vegetables into pickles. They are an aid to digestion, in addition to their serve as a spicy flavoring for some of less distinctive ones. These recipes are tested and are not difficult to make.

Tomato Catsup.

1 peck tomatoes,
1/2 gallon vinegar,
3 onions,
1 teaspoon mace,
2 tablespoons cloves,
2 tablespoons cinnamon,
1 teaspoon spice,
Sugar and salt to taste.
Slice tomatoes and onions, add a pint of water, boil until soft, mash through a sieve, then add vinegar, mace, cloves, cinnamon, spice, sugar and salt.
Boil until thick, pour into bottles and seal.

Pepper Hash

2 dozen red peppers,
1 quart vinegar,
3 cups sugar
6 onions.
Remove the white fibre and the seeds from the peppers and peel the onions. Chop finely, then pour boiling water over them. Let stand 5 minutes and drain. Cook together the vinegar, sugar and salt, add the peppers and onions, boil up once. Put in sterilized jars and seal closely.

Cucumber Catsup.

Pare very thinly 6 large cucumbers, chop finely, add a scant tablespoon of salt and let drain in a colander for an hour or two. Add a large onion, chopped fine, one teaspoon of white pepper and a pint of vinegar. Stir thoroughly and seal in glass jars. Let stand at least a month before using.
This keeps well and retains the flavor of the fresh cucumber so perfectly that those who like the vegetable are sure to like the catsup.

Pimento Sandwich Spread.

1 peck red bell peppers,
1 pint vinegar,
1 pint sugar,
4 tablespoons flour (rounded)
1 jar prepared mustard,
1 teaspoon salt.
Remove the white fiber and the seeds from the peppers. Stir all in ingredients together except the mustard. Cook until thick; about 15 minutes. Put mustard in just before taking it up. Pour into jars and cover with paraffin. This will keep several months.

Relish

Select large bell peppers half green and half red, remove seed and fiber. Put through the food chopper. Use green tomatoes and onions measuring each after they have been through the food chopper. Use half as much tomatoes as peppers, half as much onions as tomatoes. Mix well, salt generously, put in a bag and drip over night. Next morning put vegetables in a porcelain vessel and cover with sweetened and spiced vinegar. To each 1/2 gallon of vinegar, put 3 cups of sugar and one-half teaspoon each of cinnamon, allspice, cloves, nutmeg, tumeric and black pepper. Mix thoroughly by stirring, boil five minutes. Fill sterilized jars and seal.

Has He Told It All?

Old Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior in President Harding's cabinet, is now in prison to serve the sentence imposed on him for acceptance of that $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheney. So far, so good, but what is to be thought of the order issued by the department of justice forbidding any newspaper representative to interview the noted prisoner? Certainly the department of justice did not issue such an unheard-of order on its own motion, therefore its action was prompted through the interest the administration and Republican leaders believed it was best that Fall's lips be sealed and gambling on the chance of death will shortly come to the infirm bribe-taker and no chance given him to "spill the beans" which would let the world know some things about which there has been more or less curiosity ever since the scandal started years ago. Fall has never told all he knew, and he risked his own conviction to save the good name and reputation of others high up in the Republican party circles rather than "squealing" on his partners in crime. The department's order will be observed—until some enterprising newspaper reporter is ordered to "get that interview."

SUMMER GARDENS CALL FOR SPECIAL STUDY OF GROUNDS

Treatment of Soil Can Be Vital Help in Saving Costly Plants.

(N. O. Times-Picayune)
With so many persons likely to neglect their flowers during the hot weather, the New Orleans Garden Society is giving extra suggestions for care of plants and urging all good gardeners to carry them out.

"Roses can be mulched with peat moss to keep them cool and moist in the summer," Miss Sarah Butler, secretary of the society, said. "And if they need water it is best to water them in early morning or late afternoon. Prune stray branches and work the ground lightly."

The case azaleas get during the summer, garden experts say, will determine their bloom next spring. If azaleas are not given enough water during the hot weather they will wither away and die. Water once a week by taking the nozzle off the hose and substituting a tobacco can for it. In this way the force of the water is decreased and there will be no injury to the plant.

Azaleas Require Acid.

"Azaleas must have acid soil," Miss Butler said, and here in New Orleans our soil is inclined to be alkaline. Leaf mold and peat moss help, but if this is not sufficient, add aluminum sulphate.

"A good way to tell whether your soil is acid or not is to get a small soil testing kit and test it. You will find it interesting and it will pay you in the end, as all plants do not like the same kind of soil and you can make your soil to suit your plants."

"If the leaves of the azaleas are turning yellow and the veins are still green it is a sign that the soil is not acid enough and you can use the aluminum sulphate. Scatter this lightly on top of the ground but not too close to the base of the plant, a half a pound to the square yard being ample."

In caring for hydrangeas the roots must never be left exposed and if they are a couple of trowels full of good dirt should be put on them immediately and ample water applied. All old blooms should be cut away and as hydrangeas grow very readily from cuttings, place them in a cutting box.

Time for Camellia Cuttings.

July and August are the best times to set out camellias and azalea cuttings. Now is the time also to stake up chrysanthemums, dahlias and all tall growing plants, so that the rains will not hurt them. Chrysanthemums need a lot of fertilizer and one can give them a light mulch of rotted manure for the summer. Sheep manure is especially good.

Evergreens that are turning rusty are often infested with red spider and can be saved by spraying the branches with a swift stream of water from the hose or with some oil solution or well-recommended spray. All evergreens should be sprayed at least once during the summer.

GASOLINE QUALITY SHOWS IMPROVEMENT UNDER TESTING LAW

Motor Fuel Found Below State Legal Requirements Declines Progressively During First Year of Enforcement

Continued improvement in the quality of gasoline offered to Mississippi motorists is evidenced by constantly diminishing numbers of samples of gasoline found deficient during the first year of Mississippi's Gasoline Inspection Act, according to J. C. Holton, Commissioner of Agriculture.

"The new law, intended to protect Mississippi motorists against inferior gasoline and to put an end to inaccurate measuring devices, was passed by the 1930 Legislature and its enforcement vested in the Commissioner of Agriculture. The first step in its enforcement was an educational campaign, lasting approximately thirty days to acquaint the 5000 Mississippi gasoline stations with the provisions of the new law. Inspection of pumps and the analysis of samples of gasoline was started one year ago. "Samples taken by the inspectors and tested by the State chemist showed that 13 per cent of the gasoline found in Mississippi was deficient of legal requirement during the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1930. During the quarter ending March 31, 6.4 per cent of the samples analyzed were

MANY CITIZENS IN STATE ARE SEEKING POLITICAL PREFERMENT

Total of 6,361 Legislative and County Candidates Will Appear on Tickets In First Primary, August 4—Interesting Compilation.

Six hundred forty three candidates are out after the 189 seats in the Mississippi legislature.

Fourteen of the number were fortunate to be seated without opposition statistics on the candidates compiled by George B. Power, Jackson, clerk of the house of representatives, revealed.

In the list of prospective legislators are found broom-makers, newspapermen, housewives, bankers, tailors, entertainers, farmers, lawyers, preachers and men of other professions.

The compilation of Mr. Power showed 144 candidates seeking the 49 senatorial seats and 499 aspiring to sit in the house of representatives. A total of 6,361 candidates for county offices, including legislature, county attorney, sheriff, chancery and circuit clerks, superintendent of education, tax assessors, county surveyors, coroner and ranger, cotton weigher, supervisor, justice of the peace and constable.

Among the candidates for the legislature may be found the following classifications, according to Mr. Power:

Lawyers, 128; farmers 226; teachers, 42; preachers, 28; merchants, 34; railroad employees, 14; salesmen, 18; doctors, 11; students, 9; insurance agents, 13; lumbermen, 7; contractors, 4; county officers, 3; newspapermen, 15; engineers, 4; bankers, 3; housewives, 6; druggists, 3; ginners, 3; Ford dealers, 3; musicians, 2; dentists, 1; mayor, 1; barbers, 2; and 27 others distributed among telegraphers, traders, cotton buyers, cattle buyers, sportsmen, photographers, hotel men, restaurant keepers, dairymen, broom-makers, cotton mill owner, mail carrier, secretary of chamber of commerce, express agent, carpenter, soldier, bookkeeper, tailor, writers, manufacturers and entertainers.

The following were nominated to the state by virtue of having no opposition:

L. A. Whittington, Natchez, reelected; W. B. Roberts, Rosedale, reelected; W. A. Winter, Grenada; Little Upshur, Greenwood; John W. Kyle, Sardis, reelected; P. W. Allen, Indianola, J. H. Cuklin, Vicksburg, reelected; Dave C. Bramlett, Woodville and W. A. Blair, Tupelo.

Nominated for seats in the house of representatives were: Lawrence T. Kennedy, Natchez, reelected; E. P. Jones, Hermanville; E. T. Woodfolk, Tunica, reelected; Fielding L. Wright, Rolling Fork in senate last year; and J. C. Newman, Vicksburg.

Mr. Power said there are 12 senatorial districts in which only two candidates are seeking the office and there races will be settled in the first primary election August 4.

deficient, and during the quarter ending June 30, only 1.9 per cent of the samples analyzed were deficient of State legal requirements.

"During the quarter just closed, of 568 samples collected, only 7 samples were deficient within the 5 per cent tolerance and only four samples were deficient beyond the 5 per cent tolerance. 16 refineries scored 100 per cent in compliance with the law, and in only three instances were as many as 2 deficiencies charged to a single refinery.

"From Sept. 1 to July 1, 1978 samples, representing 12,238,994 gallons of gasoline have been collected by inspectors authorized by State law, from every county in Mississippi and representing gasoline offered for sale by every producer doing business in the State. The constant improvement in quality of gasoline indicated by a decrease of deficiencies from 13 per cent to 1.9 per cent is indeed gratifying and is attributable in a large measure to the splendid cooperation of all concerned. We are keeping up the fight and feel sure that the improvement shall continue until Mississippi, once the 'dumping ground' for low grade gasoline, shall receive the best motor fuel available."

NATIONAL COUNCIL CATHOLIC WOMEN TO MEET OCTOBER 25-26

October 25 and 26 will be the dates on which the first Mississippi State convention of the National Council of Catholic Women will be held at the Buena Vista Hotel, Biloxi, these dates having been set and announced Monday night at the meeting of the Biloxi district of this organization held at the community house in Ocean Springs. Miss Francis Donovan of Vicksburg, state governor of the Mississippi council, was a guest. She and sister, Miss Kathleen Donovan have been guests since Thursday of Mrs. S. J. Corso, president of the Biloxi district, and while here has been conferring with local members relative to the convention plans, setting the dates for the two-day session and stating that registration of delegates will be held October 24, the day preceding the opening.

We have very serious doubt about the bishop ever winning his suit. His greed for "easy money" has run away with his judgment, just as it did when he became a patron of Wall Street basket shops a few years ago.

MISSISSIPPI COAST REGION TO BE MADE TUNG OIL TREE LAND

The Echo's Correspondent Tells of Extensive Operations Of American Tung Oil Corporation—Over One Million Seedling Trees Near Picayune.

By W. D. Robinson

Tung oil production on a large scale, along with other crops on the same land in the Mississippi Coast region, is proposed by the American Tung Oil Products Corporation, represented by Thomas H. Hawkes of New York and Pass Christian.

The company has about 1,500,000 seedling trees growing in nurseries near Picayune and Carriere. The trees are to be transplanted next winter, and the number is sufficient to plant about 10,000 acres of land.

A booklet issued by Mr. Hawkes on the plans of the American Tung Oil Corporation reveals something new in horticulture and agriculture in this section. The corporation proposes to make tung oil the basic product, but along with it the company plans to produce castor beans, soy beans and lespedeza. Oil will be extracted from the castor beans and soy beans and the lespedeza will be used for hay and as a soil builder.

Tung oil has many varied uses and has a ready market. The meal from the tung nuts, after the oil is extracted, is valuable as a fertilizer. Castor beans produce an oil that is valuable for lubricating purposes, in the arts and sciences and for medicine. The meal from the beans, after the oil is extracted, has considerable value as a fertilizer.

Soy beans not only yield a high grade vegetable oil, but the cake, after the extraction of the oil, produces a meal that is good for both human and cattle consumption. Test show that it is equal to cottonseed meal as a food for milk cows and ranks high for fertilizer purposes.

Mr. Hawkes' booklet says that after the tung trees are planted some of the land will be devoted to castor beans, some to soy beans and some to lespedeza. Figuring on production, Mr. Hawkes' booklet estimates that tung trees will produce 800 pounds of oil per acre at five years, 1200 pounds at six years, 1600 pounds at eight years, 1700 pounds at nine years and 1800 pounds at ten years. Trees reach their maximum production at ten years and continue at about the same during the life of the tree, which is from 35 to 60 years. The approximate life of the tree has not as yet been determined in this country.

In addition to the oil, the value of the tung seed meal for fertilizer is placed at $30 a ton. Tung oil has ranged around 15 cents a pound during recent years.

Castor beans, it is figured, will produce about 2000 pounds of oil and about 2300 pounds of cake per acre. The oil is worth at least 10 cents a pound. The meal has a value of $25 a ton for fertilizer.

Soy bean production is estimated at 25 bushels per acre, with a valuation of $1.50 a bushel, and soy bean hay at $5 a ton, making a total gross income of $42.50 an acre from this source.

Lespedeza is to be produced on some of the land because of the ready market for the hay. It makes exceptionally fine food for cattle. As Mississippi is fast becoming a dairying State, it is figured that most of the hay would be marketed at home. The market price for lespedeza hay has averaged about $25 a ton for some years back. Sericea lespedeza, the variety it is proposed to plant, reseeds itself every year, making it an easy crop to produce.

If Mr. Hawkes' estimates are any way near correct, and it is presumed that they are, for he and his associates have spent a lot of money in investigation and research work, it is evident that the production of tung oil and other crops on the same land at the same time will develop into a very profitable business.

Mass production methods, used so successfully by many industries in this country, is to be carried to the farm under the plans of the American Tung Oil Products Corporation.

In June 1919, twelve years ago, was signed the treaty of peace which ended the World War. Judging from the bickering that have taken place since, as to who was to come out on top in the matter of reparations and war debt payments, it might better have been called a treaty of fleecing.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRAVEL BARGAINS

In keeping with the present era of bargains, J. V. Lanigan, Passenger Traffic Manager, of the Illinois Central system, today announced the slashing of fares between all points on the 7,000 mile Railroad.

The reduction in chair cars and coaches, and 50 per cent in Pullman and parlor cars and bring the cost of rail travel to one cent and slightly less than two cents for the respective types of transportation. August 7th and 8th are the travel bargain dates with return limit of August 17th.

Travel, always an invaluable adjunct to business, will be greatly stimulated in the 14 states served by the road, Mr. Lanigan believes.

"We tried this once before," Mr. Lanigan stated today, "and various trade associations reported considerable increase in business directly traceable to the travel bargains, and the public generally appreciated the opportunity to travel on these low fares."

Mr. Lanigan also pointed out that these mid-summer travel bargain travel days are timely in the planning of vacation trips and family visits at tremendous savings.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

Chicago, Ill., July 21.—"This indeed the picture of a sadly worried world that has been brought to us by the daily press during the past fortnight. It seems that the democracy for which we fought, now faces dangers because the objects of the World War were accomplished too thoroughly. Or what is the matter. How reassuring, then, it is, in the midst of all this confusion, to have The Sea Coast Echo come, filled with homey news showing that the heart of America still beats with normal rhythm."

A chaotic world, my readers, a chaotic world! A world possessed of too much of everything, yet in which millions are worrying. The masters of this world, those who planned its wars and executed its treaties, must view this chaos with much the same perplexed astonishment as was experienced by Oswald Villiers when he surveyed the wreckage of his truck, which but a moment before the accident described in last week's Echo seemed certain of reaching its destination.

Many remember Mrs. Rose Lux Kuttner, now of Lake Charles, La., when, as Rose Lux, she was a lively part of Day St. Louis' social whirl. And when they read last week's account of her visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. P. Monti, and her niece, Miss Geraldine Ames, they will recall many happy memories of days that used to be.

Problems common to the business of Kappa Sigma everywhere were discussed at the 29th biennial convocation at Biggin Inn, Canada, which was attended last week by George R. Rea who is now national treasurer of the fraternity. The untangling of many a knot awaits the collective thinking expressed at such gatherings. (Or isn't that what is done at conventions?)

Let lovers of the artificial world of the words painting the glories of the capitals of the world. Far greater than the joys of centers of diplomatic intrigue are such as those experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert De Ben and their little daughter, Melanie, who, according to last week's paper, vacationed "neath the clear skies and sylvan beauties of Arkansas and northwest Louisiana."

Miss Olga Rossinal, Mr. Herbert Berhring, and Mr. George Miller came to spend the "week-end" with Mr. and Mrs. E. Sandoz, our Personal News Teller. And by ever so many more items are we reminded that the week-end comes like an oasis in a desert of toil and care. Automobiles and improved highways make it possible to wander far from the scenes of daily life. Through such visits, new ideas and viewpoints are gained, and the travelers go back to their labors rested as they could not have been were such pleasant week-ends denied them.

With Mr. John Morrere went his children, when they motored to Mandeville for a visit with the children's grandparents. During the next few weeks, happy Grandma and Grandpa will see in their grandchildren the reincarnation of their own children, now grown and rearing families themselves. And then, perhaps, the little ones will be the means by which the minds of the grandparents will be taken back over the years to the days of their childhood, when they were as carefree as are the youngsters on the present visit.

While truly wise men, and some that are otherwise, have darted from place to place, to Europe's dilemma, the Bay St. Louis School Board has calmly considered the applications of the many desiring a position in the schools under their jurisdiction. These supervisors or education have kept in mind that proper mental training is the richest legacy this generation can leave to the next. Parents, reading the results of the Board's deliberations, will agree that its members have discharged their duties well when they appointed Mrs. George T. Schilling as teacher for the ensuing year.

And of course, when the ladies of Bay St. Louis and vicinity, at their meetings or in the course of their pleasant afternoon calls, discussed things pertaining to their homes, there were many who mentioned that from reading last week's Echo, they had learned that the price of sugar had dropped to 4 1/2 cents a pound and lamb shoulder to 10 cents a pound. Perhaps they'll admit, but anyway they were the figures quoted by C. B. Mollere in his advertisement of last week.

And although there is a surplus of able-bodied manhood in the country, our postoffice has not seen fit to extend a 44-hour week to its employees without curtailing postal service. Readers of this column who have noted any irregularities in its appearance lately and advised that such are due to an economy program which deprives me of a goodly portion of my Saturday mail.

WARNING To Candidates

(Published by Request)

"I was a candidate once, therefore I give warning to all candidates." I lost four months and 33 days canvassing; 1459 hours thinking about the election; five acres of cotton, 23 acres of corn, a whole sweet potato crop, four sheep, five goats, and one beef given to barbecue; two front teeth and a considerable quantity of hair in a personal skirmish. Gave 97 sacks of tobacco, 17 Sunday school books, two pairs of socks, four calico dresses, seven dolls and 28 baby rattlers. Shook hands 32,493 times. Talked enough to have made in print 1,800 large volumes, size of ratenoff office reports. Kissed 126 babies, kindled 14 kitchen fires, cut three cords of wood, pulled 457 bundles of fodder, picked 774 pounds of cotton, helped pull seven wagons of corn, dug 14 bushels of potatoes, cut 28 buckets of water, put up one overcoat, five boxes of paper, Watch broken by being hit four times. Have repaired; loaned out three barrels of flour, 50 bushels of meal, 120 pounds of bacon, 37 pounds of butter, 12 dozen eggs, three umbrellas, 13 lead pencils, one Bible, one dictionary, one now black, two hats one overcoat, five boxes of paper turned. Got stuck in the mud five times, which cost me $25 in all to be pulled out. Called my opponent a preambulating liar, doctor's bill $10.

Had five arguments with my wife—result, one flower vase broken, one broom handle, one dish of shirt bosom ruined, two handfuls of whiskers pulled out 10 cents worth of sticking plaster bought, besides spending $1,789.

Got defeated by 399 votes.

AN OLD CANDIDATE.

SCREENS AND SUMMER TIME CALL TO MIND OLD FLY BRUSH GONE

Conditions of Yesterday Contrasted With Today Recalls Things of Yesterday.

You folks of Bay St. Louis who pride yourselves on local history, and the trend of events in your own home town, run back in your minds just a little and see if you can recall the first time you remember that wire of homey and screen doors were used to keep out the flies.

It hasn't been such an awful long period of years, and yet, glance around today, and see how many homes, and places of business do not have these conveniences. When one stops to think of this comparatively recent day, you cannot help wondering to yourself just how folks managed to get along in the old days without them.

Flies—Oh, yes, they were everywhere. And what a time it was to keep beyond their annoyance. There were no ceiling electric fans in those days. Yet folks had to keep a weather eye out for them, and it was a source of no little trouble and annoyance to do this.

Remember what was a familiar sight on the dining table when a meal was being served. In the center of the table, was a mechanical arrangement with a long shaft reaching to the ceiling from which projected somewhat as a clock, with a wheel, and then it was allowed to run. The fans would revolve slowly, covering about the circumference of the table, and this, in a way, kept the flies away.

Then there were some of the homes which did not boast of this contrivance. You will remember what took place in these homes at meal time. The lady of the house, who sat at the head of the table had the job of keeping the flies away. This was accomplished by means of a long wand at the end of which was attached strips of colored paper. Every once in a while the "fly brush" as it was called, would be waved over the table. Maybe the flies would be frightened away, and then again maybe they would be given a wallop and down they would come landing in the soup or something else.

In the barber shops on the beach there was a swinging fan over each chair, hung from the ceiling, and attended by cords run over pulleys which ran down to one corner. Here

Magnificent Settings Feature of "Five and Ten," New Marion Davies Screen Drama

Twenty-two different settings were built by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer architects for "Five and Ten," in which Marion Davies will be seen at the A. & C. Theater, Sunday and Monday, July 26-27.

Because of the swift and ever-changing action in the new film, the unusual number of sets was demanded, some of them requiring more area and materials than sets for many entire productions of recent months. One set, representing the New York home of the newly-rich Rarick family occupied nearly ten thousand square feet of stage space and required more than three hundred incandescent lights, including a huge battery of giant sun arcs.

The library and hall portions of these sets were built to the maximum width that could be covered in the spread of a motion picture camera lens without losing the identity of the players in the action, the purpose being to dwarf the figures amid a monstrous display of wealth. Several thousand books had to be rented to fill the massive book shelves in the library and a painting ten by fifteen feet of Napoleon secured to hang over the imposing fireplace.

A boy would sit, when a customer was being shaved, and the cord would be given a tug every now and then, and the fans would swing back and forth to keep the customers cool and to show the flies away.

Later some of the more progressive shops and places of business, before electric fans made their appearance, used ceiling fans which were driven by water motors. They were quite an innovation and attracted considerable attention.

Then the electric fan made its appearance. Folks marveled at these, at shops, stores and at the soft drink counters. They not only kept the flies away, but they kept the place cool. Everybody wanted to trade at the places where there were fans.

Today one can hardly find a home where there is not one or more fans, and no place of business is considered complete and modern which does not provide these conveniences. Every window and door is screened, and a fly in the home is rather a novelty now, when in the old days a home without any was marveled at.

It is very interesting at times to sit and think of these things, and make comparisons of how folks live today and how they lived in years gone by in the memory of those who have experienced these changes.

A hundred years from now, there will be even other advances in matters of convenience, and folks who live then will marvel at the crude manner of living, the people of Bay

Included in the wide variety of settings that were built for the picture directed by Robert Z. Leonard were a private emergency hospital, conservatively, modernistic business offices, the roof of a new skyscraper, elevator shafts, a charity bazaar, society ball room, wedding chapel, steamer deck, wharves, stores, bachelor apartments, dressing rooms and numerous bedrooms and hallways.

Novel Features
These lavish settings were all designed and built under direction of Cedric Gibbons, studio art director. Costumes, too, had to be especially created and executed for the feminine players by Gilbert Adrian, who incorporated in his original designs many novel features.

The new style creations are worn in the picture by Miss Davies, Irene Rich, Mary Duncan, Lee Beranger and Ruth Selwyn, some forty-eight different gowns in all.

HOW ONE MAN LOST 22 POUNDS

Mr. Herman Runkins of Detroit, writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—With my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now feel like a new man."

To lose fat safely and quickly take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—Get it at any drug store in America. It not only satisfies after the first bottle—money back.

St. Louis and other towns and communities are passing through at this time.

With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Everyone has an Adam's Apple—Every man—every woman has one. Touch your Adam's Apple with your finger. You are actually touching your larynx—this is your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords.

"TOASTING" expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE—the modern cigarette. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds. Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why the "TOASTING" Process includes the use of Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret and exclusive heating process. It is this process that expels these harsh irritants. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple." ANNOUNCING ENGAGEMENT OF POPULAR BAY VISITOR FROM NASHVILLE, TENN.

In a recent edition of the Nashville Tennessean and Nashville Banner there appeared the announcement "Mrs. N. D. Overall announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Dorothy to Horace V. Wells, Jr., of Nashville. The wedding will take place in the early fall."

Miss Overall graduated last year, with honors, from Vanderbilt University and has spent the past winter in New York City. Mr. Wells, also a graduate of Vanderbilt is State News Editor of the Tennessean.

Miss Overall will be remembered here as a charming visitor three summers ago, at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. C. McDonald. While here, she was the recipient of many courtesies.

DELIGHTFUL GUESTS RETURN TO HOME AT SPRINGFIELD, MO.

Mrs. C. E. Denton and interesting family, who have been visiting their relatives, Mrs. J. H. Bouslog and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall, and friends as well, left Tuesday for their home at Springfield, Missouri, after spending several weeks delightfully on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, occupying the O'Leary Apartments off Peerless Point on the beach front.

ENTERTAIN AT LUNCHEON OF FOURTEEN COVERS.

Mrs. J. H. Bouslog and daughter, Mrs. Marshall were joint hostesses on Tuesday of last week at a luncheon and reception in compliment to Mr. C. E. Denton, of Springfield, Mo., on the occasion of their then approaching departure for home. The party was at the Oriole Tea Room and the beautifully decorated table was set for fourteen. The event was one of those thoroughly enjoyable affairs and the only regret was that the honoree was preparing to leave for home.

MRS. E. J. LEONHARD ENTERTAINS FOR HER GUEST, MRS. BUCKNER.

Mrs. E. J. Leonhard entertained a small party of friends at luncheon at Hotel Weston in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Harriet Eddings Buckner, of Nashville, Tenn. Among the guests were Mrs. E. S. Drake, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Mrs. Danold Marshall.

LUNCHEON FOR MRS. DENTON BY JOINT HOSTESSES.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald and Mrs. Leo W. Seal were joint hostesses on Thursday afternoon of last week at the Seal residence, when a luncheon was given in compliment to Mrs. C. E. Denton, of Springfield, Mo. Among those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Seal were Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. J. H. Bouslog, Mrs. C. M. Shipp, Mrs. (Dr.) Jas. A. Evans, Mrs. Ella Maybin and Mrs. C. C. Clark.

Candidates' Dance To Be Given On Eve Of County Election

There will be a Candidates' Dance at W. O. W. Hall on the evening of Monday August 3, from 8 to 10 o'clock for a worthy cause. Admission, 50 cents; ladies, 25 cents. Refreshments will be sold at 5 cents. The management announces that the public is respectfully invited to attend.

Reports from everywhere seem to be the effect that it is now or never with the tax payers. If they fail to vote into office men who will bring about reforms, stop all leaks, and chloroform all chimerical legislation, as well as asphyxiate excessive appropriations, they will be confronted with bankruptcy, which may result in repudiation. Bankruptcy is bad enough, but repudiation clings and stings like the bite of Nessus. It was Benjamin Franklin who said: "God helps those who help themselves."—Edgar S. Wilson in Mobile Register.

Incurable A young wife, hoping to cheer her groggy husband up, took him for a visit in the country. As they gazed over the glorious landscape, she exclaimed: "Um, I don't know," he said. "Take away the mountains and the lake and it's just like anywhere else."

The statistician makes a personal appraisal for everyone to get behind his own town paper and boost it as a method to "continue strongly toward the recovery of business in your own town." The remarks of this fact-gatherer are too long for quotation here, although it is seldom that such a generous appreciation of the task of the press appears in print. —Yale Sentinel.

Southern Hospitality

A hotel that exemplifies Southern hospitality. The type of hospitality that matches perfectly the demands and moods of every guest.

For some it means music, perfect meals faultlessly served. For others, hours of tranquil relaxation in luxurious surroundings. For others it means an unobtrusive, home-like service that invites them to be our guests whenever they come to New Orleans.
